Château Bellevue

SAINT-EMILION GRAND CRU CLASSÉ

2020

Revue de presse
Press review

Dark ruby, purple reflections, opaque core, brightening on the rim. Inviting sweet berry fruit, ripe cherries and fresh figs, hints of coconut, cloves and vanilla, a little nougat in the background and a hint of fine oak. Juicy and deep with sweet cherries, fine tannins, mineral, good freshness. Salty on the finish, with a hint of nougat; a recommended food companion with certain ageing potential.

falstaff

Flowers, black plums, cherries, licorice, wet earth and cigar box aromas create the beautiful nose. On the palate the wine is medium/full-bodied, soft, silky, fresh, sweet and polished. There is a gorgeous sense of purity to the fruit, opulence on the palate and in the finish that really works here. The wine is produced from 100% old vine Merlot.

THE WINE CELLAR INSIDER

An incredible showing, the 2020 Château Bellevue is still youthfully ruby/plum-hued and has a classic Saint-Emilion nose of ripe red and black fruits, white truffles, loamy earth, and smoky, tobacco-like nuances. It's beautifully textured, medium to full-bodied, has a great mid-palate, and ripe yet mostly resolved tannins. It's drinking at point, yet it's not tired in the least and should have another decade or more of prime drinking. Drink 2025-2040.
